AGREEMENTS AND OTHER BILATERAL COMMITMENTS LINKING THE COMMUNITIES WITH NON-MEMBER COUNTRIES
(As at 30 June 1984)

Brussels, July 1984

FOREWORD

As many users of this Directory had hoped, the data concerning the "agreements and other bilateral commitments linking the European Communities with non-member countries" can now be published every six months, while a loose-leaf copy updated daily, is available at the Treaties Office and may, if desired, be photocopied for immediate reference. The Directory follows the pattern established in the previous versions. The agreements are grouped by geographical area (except for China). Agreements proper have been listed whilst information concerning other acts, not included, is available on request (Tel. 235 61 62).

In the case of some countries, minor agreements not usually published in the Official Journal have nonetheless been included in this Directory thanks to the officials in charge of the geographical areas concerned, who, having received copies of earlier Directories, have sent further information to the Treaties Office. The office has adopted the somewhat unorthodox practice of including these acts in response to the specific request of the services concerned who are therefore invited to bring these "agreements" to the attention of the Treaty Office by forwarding a copy of the source documents having implemented them.

Certain agreements between several parties, such as the ACP or the ASEAN, are included in the bilateral agreements. It was considered that, like the European Communities, these groups of nations could also be considered as a single legal entity, expressing a single will.

The Treaties Office welcomes reactions to this document so that it can adapt its programme and activities to the requirements of the departments concerned and to developments in the Community's international relations.

Entered into force on 1 January 1981 and expires on 28 February 1985.	Implementation of the Agreement rests with a number of bodies with different spheres of competence, the most important being the Council of Ministers (Art. 164-169), the Committee of Ambassadors (Art. 170-172) and the Consultative Assembly (Art.175). Each body adopts its own rules of procedure and its operating arrangements. European Community bodies notably the EIB, act in matters within their sphere of responsibility. Other bodies were set up by certain of the Protocols to the Convention (e.g., Customs Cooperation Committee, permanent joint group for bananas and joint working party for rum).	Comprehensive agreement providing for : (1) trade cooperation, (ii) stabilization of export earnings (iii) industrial, technical and financial cooperation. It is accompanied by an Internal Agreement on the measures and procedures required for implementation of the second ACP-EEC Convention of Lomé (OJ L 347/80, page 206) and an Internal agreement of 1979 on the financing and administration of Community aid (OJ L 347/80, page 210), as amended by the Internal Agreement (OJ L 247/82), signed on 16 December 1982, which entered into force on 30 June 1982 with retroactive effect from 1 March 1982. On 6 and 7 October 1983, ACP-EEC negotiations officially opened for a new Convention, signature expected Autumn 1984. Among the various changes hoped for is the possible abolition of any time limit on the future Convention by means of a "permanent core" of provisions accompanied by possible amendments for specific aspects of the Convention.
