AGREEMENTS AND OTHER BILATERAL COMMITMENTS LINKING THE COMMUNITIES

WITH NON-MEMBER COUNTRIES

(As at 30 June 1985)

Brussels, July 1985

FOREWORD

For some years the Treaties Office has compiled and distributed a Directory of international legal commitments linking the European Communities, on a bilateral basis, with non-member countries or groups of countries forming a regional entity.

This Directory is an essential working instrument for those concerned with the external relations of the European Communities.

It has two purposes:

- (a) to provide a complete list of Community agreements, updated every six months; and
- (b) to give the reader the exact references for finding the texts of documents, and at the same time to present the most important basic data, i.e. legal basis, structure, administering body, etc.

This document gives details of agreements in the strict sense of the word only. Information concerning other acts is available on request (Mrs FOSSATI - Tel. 235 61 62).

The Directory lists the main agreements with non-member countries and groups of countries, and also minor agreements and sector agreements. The main agreements are marked with an asterisk.

In the case of the minor agreements, which are not usually published in the Official Journal, the Directory contains details only of the acts notified to the Treaties Office by the relevant departments. In other words, these agreements are included in the Directory only at the request of the departments concerned, who are therefore invited to bring them to the notice of the Treaties Office by forwarding a copy.

The Treaties Office welcomes additional information and comments from readers, with a view to augmenting and improving the Directory.

* OJ L 300/72 page 93	Agreement between Economic Community and the Republic of Austria	EEC Treaty Art. 113	Signed on 22 July 1972 in force since 1 January 1973 for an unlimited period. The trade provisions of the Agreement entered into force on 1 October 1972	Joint Committee (articles 29-31) (The future developments clause make the role of the Joint Committee a fairly important one). The Committee has the power to take decisions binding on the parties.	An "unspecified agreement" or "reinforced agreement". It is a preferential agreement setting up a free trade area, for which purpose it establishes a precise timetable for the dismantling of tariffs. At the end of the period laid down there must be freedom of movement for industrial products. In scope this Agreement is more comprehensive than the usual kind of trade agreement, the links between the parties being very close. The products covered are very numerous. The Agreement does not contain the most-favoured-nation clause. The future developments clause provides that were a contracting party considers that it would be useful to develop the relations established by the Agreement by extending them to fields not covered, it shall submit a reasoned request to the other party. The Joint Committee may be instructed to examine the matter. The effect of this measure is to make the Agreement an open-ended one. Amendments or derogations: OJ L 298/76, OJ L 338/76, OJ L 302/78 Protocol 3 to the Agreement was amended several times by decisions of the Joint Committee or by means of exchange of letters. In 1984 it was necessary to consolidate all the provisions in force into a single text. This was done by means of an Agreement in the form of an exchange of letters to which was attached the new text of Protocol 3, superseding and repealing the Protocol to the Agreement (see OJ L 323/84).

The Committee has the power to make recommendations and decisions which are implemented by the Contracting Parties in accordance with their own rules.	An "unspecified agreement" or "reinforced trade agreement" setting up a free trade area, for which purpose it establishes a precise timetable for the dismantling of tariffs. At the end of the period laid down there must be freedom of movement for industrial products. In scope this Agreement is more comprehensive than the usual kind of trade agreement, the links between the parties being very close. The products covered are very numerous. The Agreement does not contain the most-favoured-nation clause. The future developments clause provides that where a contracting party considers that it would be useful to develop the relations established by the Agreement by extending them to fields not covered, it shall submit a reasoned request to the other party. The Joint Committee may be instructed to examine the matter. The effect of this measure is to make the Agreement an open-ended one. The Joint Commission also ensures the proper functioning of the sectoral agreements concluded or which may be concluded and "to this end it shall exercise the responsibilities entrusted to the Joint Commissions set up under these agreements" (Art. 12). It has powers in respect of the use of Community aid funds and other funds which may be placed at India's disposal	Non-preferential agreement. Replaces the 1973 Agreement (see OJ L 82/74). Cooperation extends to a large number of sectors; no field is excluded under the future developments clause. On trade, the Agreement takes over all the provisions of the preceding cooperation agreement, including the most-favoured-nation clause. It also stresses the two parties' intention to promote the development aid diversification of their trade to the highest possible level, through a range of specific measures (Article 4). Economic cooperation is to cover all fields of mutual interest in order to contribute to the development of their respective economies (promotion of industrial cooperation and the transfer of technology, investment promotion, contacts between economic organizations - including SME - seminars etc.). The Agreement also provides a firm basis for scientific and technological cooperation (Article 5). With regard to development aid , India is the main beneficiary under the NADS programme. This aid takes the form of direct concessional transfers and also support from institutional and other sources of finance (Article 6). The aid covers a wide range of sectors, notably in agriculture.

Not yet published	Third ACP-EEC Convention (with 8 protocols, including one concerning products within the province of the ECSC, an exchange of letters on bovine meat and a Final Act)	EEC Treaty Art. 238 Georgetown Agreement	Signed on 8 December 1984 and will enter into force as soon as the ratification procedures are completed	Implementation of the Agreement rests with a number of bodies with different spheres of competence, the most important being the Council of Ministers (Art. 265-271), the Committee of Ambassadors (Art. 272-273) and the Joint Assembly (Art. 276-277). Each body adopts its own rules of procedure and its operating arrangements. European Community bodies notably the EIB, act in matters within their sphere of responsibility. (cont.d)	Comprehensive agreement providing for: (i) trade cooperation, (ii) stabilization of export earnings (iii) industrial, technical and financial cooperation. It is accompanied by an Internal Agreement on the measures and procedures required for implementation of the third ACP-EEC Convention of Lomé and an Internal Agreement of 1985 on the financing and administration of Community aid; these Internal Agreement were signed on 19 February 1985. The Convention is similar to its predecessors since, among other things, the proposed innovation with regard to duration was not accepted. On the other hand, the approach to dialogue between the ACP side and the Community appears to have been more constructive in respect of certain thorny problems. The preamble and Article 4 contain references to human rights and human dignity (UN Charter). Apartheid was condemned. This is in line with the points of concern expressed by the European Parliament. It was also recommended that a working party be set up for improving investment guarantees. In addition, surplus agricultural products are placed at the disposal of the ACP countries at prices lower than world prices. (cont.d)

				Other bodies are provided by certain of the Protocols to the Convention (e.g. Customs Cooperation Committee, permanent joint group for bananas and joint working party for rum).	The overall financial package of 8 500 million ECU is divided between the EDF (7 400 million) and the EIB (1 100 million), the overall breakdown being as follows: Stabex - 12.50%, i.e. 925 million; Sysmin - 5.61%, i.e. 415 million; regional cooperation, including control of desertification - 1 000 million; trade promotion - 60 million; CDI - 40 million; emergency aid and refugees - 290 million. The grant element rises from 64.54% to 64.73% (4 860 million). This package covers all the ACP States which participated in the negotiations, including Angola and Mozambique, and anticipates the accession to the Community of Portugal and Spain; provision is made, however, for adjustments in the event of the accession of new States which did not take part in the negotiations. Mozambique became a signator to the Convention for the first time. Angola also signed on 30 April 1985, bringing the number of ACP countries to 66. The association of the OCT with the Community is covered by a Council Decision; pending its adoption, provisional measures were adopted
with the aim of maintaining the parallel element in the arrangements for the OCT and those for the ACP States under Lomé III. A package of 120 million ECU (100 million ECU for the EDF and 20 million ECU for the EIB) has been allocated to finance cooperation with the OCT. The Commission proposes that these funds be broken down as follows: risk capital - 15 million ECU; Stabex/Sysmin - 5 million ECU; emergency aid - 4 million ECU; regional cooperation - 10 million ECU; interest rate subsidies - 2,5 million ECU; access to the CDI - 0.5 million ECU; projects and programmes - 63 million ECU. The 63 million ECU for the EDF are allocated between the three metropolitan countries (27 million for both France and the Netherlands, and 9 million for the United Kingdom).

OJ L 292/84 page 2	Agreement in the form of an exchange of letters between the European Economic Community and Barbados, Belize, the People's Republic of the Congo, Fiji, the Cooperative Republic of Guyana, Jamaica, the Republic of Kenya, the Democratic Republic of Madagascar, the Republic of Malawi, Mauritius, the Republic of Suriname, the Kingdom of Swaziland, the United Republic of Tanzania, Trinidad and Tobago, the Republic of Uganda and the Republic of Zimbabwe on the guaranteed prices for cane sugar for the 1983/84 delivery period	EEC Treaty Art. 113 ACP-EEC Convention Protocol 7	1984-85 marketing year. Signed on 21 November 1984	In the absence of provisions, see Art. 8 of Protocol 7 to the Lomé Convention of 31 October 1979	See parallel agreement with India. For exchanges of letters on the accession of Saint Christopher and Nevis, and on Ivory Coast, see OJ L 166/84. This agreement falls within the framework of the Protocol on sugar annexed to the Lomé Convention, which commits the EEC to the purchase of some 1.3 million tones of sugar, expressed in terms of white sugar, at guaranteed prices. If a country fails to deliver the agreed quantity, it loses its rights in respect of the quantity not delivered and the Commission may decide (Article 7 (4) to re-allocate that quantity. The negotiations on guaranteed prices for 1984-85 were concluded on 26 September 1984 following the ACP countries' acceptance of the Community's offer of 44.34 ECU/100 Kg for raw sugar and 54.68 ECU/100 kg for white sugar. The ACP regard these prices, which were backdated to 1 July 1984, as insatisfactory..
