AMENDED PROPOSAL FOR A COUNCIL REGULATION (EEC)

establishing a Community system for the conservation and management of fishery resources

(COM(76) 535 final)

(submitted to the Council by the Commission)

OUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES,

ng regare the Treaty establishing the European Economic Community, and articular Article 2 thereof, ing regard to the Act of Accession, and in particular Articles 102 and 103 reof.

repard to the proposal from the Commission, ving regard to the Opinion of the European Parliament, lying regard to the Opinion of the Economic and Social Committee, the Council of the European Communities has agreed that the Member concert to extend their fishing zones to 200 miles with ffect from 1 January 1977 along their North Sea and the North Atlantic coastines, without prejudice to action of the same kind in respect of other fishing ones under their jurisdiction, in particular in the Mediterranean; whereas, since then and on this basis the Member States concerned have also extended their ishing limits in certain areas of the Central West Atlantic, the Skagerrak and the Kattegat; whereas, in this context, in view of the over-fishing of stocks of the main species, it is essential that the Community, in the interests of both ishermen and consumers, ensure by an appropriate policy for the protection of ashing grounds that stocks are conserved and reconstituted; whereas it is therefore desirable that the provisions of Council Regulation (EEC) No 101/76 of 19 January 1976 laying down a common structural policy for the fishing industry (1) be supplemented by the establishment of a Community system for the conservation and management of fishery resources that will ensure balanced exploitation;

thereas this sytem should in particular include conservation measures which may involve limitations on fishing, rules for the use of resources, special provisions for inshore fishing and inspection measures;

ihereas measures regulating fishing may include restrictions, established by species or group of species, on catches, with overall catches being limited by reference to stock or group of stocks;

thereas the overall catch that may be taken by Member States will be determined by subtracting from the total allowable catch, by stock or group of stocks, the eatch allocated to non-member countries in waters under the jurisdiction of lember States thereas the overall catch should be allocated between the Member States;

hereas in making this allocation particular attention should be paid to the vital peds of the local populations of Ireland, Greenland and the northern parts of the nited Kingdom which are particularly dependent on fishing and related industries and for whom restrictions on fishing could have particularly serious social and conomic consequences and whereas this allocation should be made on the basis o that fishing performances of Member States;

dereas the operation of the provisions concerning apportionment of the overall atch should be limited to the period up to 31 December 1982, provision being hade for their re-examination in order to determine those to be applied beyond that date in the light of experience and of the results of the conservation policy;

whereas there should be special provisions for inshore fishing to enable this sector to cope with the new fishing conditions resulting from the institution of 200 mile fishing zones; whereas, to this end, application of the arrangements established by Articles 100 and 101 of the Act of Accession should forthwith be extended beyond 31 December 1982 and Member States authorized at the same time to apply, to inshore zones within the 12 mile limit not covered by Articles 100 and 101 of the said Act, a system identical to that established by the said Articles; whereas, however, all these provisions will be remexamined by the Council before 31 December 1982 on the basis of a report by the Commission;

Whereas the creation of a Community system for the conservation and management of fishery resources should be accompanied by the institution of an effective system of supervision of activities in the fishing grounds and on landing; whereas to this end, inter alia, a system of permits for all fishing carried on by way of trade should be progressively introduced;

Whereas in this connection the distortions which might arise in the absence of a balanced allocation of fishing activity should be remedied by taking into account the short or long-term nature of the factors which cause these distortions through the adoption of specific measures to control the balanced management of resources by way of fishing plans;

Whereas, with a view to the preparation of scientific and technical information be used to assess the situation regarding the biological resources of the seconditions for ensuring the conservation of stocks, a standing Scientific and Technical Committee should be set up under the Auspices of the Commission;

Whereas, to facilitate implementation of the provisions of this Regulation, a procedure should be laid down for close cooperation between the Member States and the Commission within a Management Committee;

HAS ADOPTED THIS REGULATION :

In order to ensure the protection of fishing grounds, the conservation of the biological resources of the sea and their balanced exploitation, a Community system for the conservation and management of fishery resources is hereby established.

- conservation measures, which may include restrictions on fishing,
- rules for the use of fishery resources,
- special provisions for inshore fishing,
- inspection measures.

- 1. The Council, acting by a qualified majority on a proposal from the Commission, shall adopt the conservation measures necessary to achieve the aims set out in Article 1. These measures shall be formulated in the light of the report prepared by the Scientific and Technical Committee for Fisheries provided for in Article 12.
- 2. The measures referred to in paragraph 1 may include, for each species or group of species:
  - a) the establishment of zones where fishing is prohibited or restricted to certain periods, certain types of vessel, certain fishing tackle or certain end-uses;
  - b) the setting of standards as regards fishing tackle;
  - c) the setting of a minimum size or weight;
  - d) the restriction of fishing, in particular by limits on catches.

Where, in the case of one species or a group of related species, it become necessary to limit the catch, the Council, acting by a qualified majority on a proposal from the Commission, shall fix a total allowable catch for each stock or group of stocks.

Article 4

1. Where, in accordance with Article 3, a total allowable catch if fixed, the Council, acting by a qualified majority on a proposal from the Commission shall each year determine the volume of the overall catch that may be taken by the Member States.

This volume shall be equal to the total allowable catch by stock or groups of stocks in waters under the sovereignty or within the jurisdiction of Member States minus the total of any catches allocated to non-member States.

- 2. The volume of the catch as referred to in paragraph 1 shall be apportioned between the Member States by the Council, acting by a qualified majority on a proposal from the Commission.
- 3. In making this apportionment particular attention shall be paid to the vital needs the local populations of Ireland, of the northern parts of the United Kingdom and of Greenland which are particularly dependent on fishing and related industries and to the past fishing performances of Member States.
- 4. The provisions of this Article shall apply until 31 December 1982.

  The Council, acting by a qualified majority on a proposal from the Commission (in accordance with the procedure provided for in Article 43 (2) of the Treaty), shall adopt the provisions to be applied after that date in the light of experience and of the results of the conservation policy.
