P R E F A C E

The present volume is part of a series of sectoral studies on the evolution of concentration in the member states of the European Community.

These reports were compiled by the different national Institutes and experts, engaged by the Commission to effect the study programme in question.

Regarding the specific and general interest of these reports and the responsibility taken by the Commission with regard to the European Parliament, they are published wholly in the original version.

The Commission refrains from commenting, only stating that the responsibility for the data and opinions appearing in the reports, rests solely with the Institute or the expert who is the author.

Other reports on the sectoral programme will be published by the Commission as soon as they are received.

The Commission will also publish a series of documents and tables of syntheses, allowing for international comparisons on the evolution of concentration in the different member states of the Community.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The co-authors have been individually responsible for the design, conduct and preparation of different sections of this report.

The survey of prices and mark-ups section was the responsibility of Professor Thomas. He wishes to acknowledge the very valuable contributions of Mr. S. J. Cordell, who provided advice and assistance in the preparation of the report, Miss Donna Thomas, who assisted in the data editing and report writing and Mr. Gerard van Dam who assisted in the planning and data collection.

The outline of concentration in the supply of classical records section was the responsibility of Mr. Francis Fishwick.

INTRODUCTION

The price survey was conducted in thirty-two retail record outlets located in the cities of London, Manchester and Glasgow between 20 October and 20 November 1978. Procedures and forms for the in-store work were developed and tested in retail outlets outside the three cities included in the study. The retail outlets were generally selected as those believed to be doing the largest volume in classical records except for the Boots, W.H.Smith and Woolworth outlets which were included because of their very substantial share (estimated by trade sources at 30%) of the total record market. In conducting the field work and in subsequent contact with manufacturers and distributors the researchers identified themselves as being from the Cranfield School of Management, conducting research on the distribution of classical records. They did not identify the sponsor as the E.E.C.. This approach eliminated the possibility that responders would be influenced by knowledge of sponsorship.

COMMENTS AND EXPLANATORY NOTES

These comments and notes are intended to clarify the format used in data presentation in sections 3,4 and 5 of the report.

(i) INTERPRETATION: Each record is listed using the Gramophone Classical Catalogue abbreviation for the orchestra, the conductor and/or the soloist. Occasionally works, records or record sets are available in which several orchestras, conductors or soloists performed or where one or more of these were not identifiable. Infrequently a work included in a record with other works may not have been performed by the listed orchestra or artist.

(ii) REVIEW DATES: Dates indicate when the record was first reviewed in Gramophone magazine. These dates approximate the release date by the manufacturer. Frequently a performance has been released more than once (under more than one number). Where two dates are shown the earliest date indicates the first time the work was reviewed and the most recent date indicates the date at which the listed release (record number) was reviewed.

(iii) PRICES: The prices listed for recommended retail and estimated cost are those in effect at the time the survey was conducted.

The recommended retail price (rec) is the retail price suggested by the manufacturer. This includes VAT at 8%. Appendix I is a copy indicating recommended retail prices taken from the Gramophone Classical Catalogue (September 1978).

The estimated replacement cost price (est c) reflects an estimate of the standard invoice cost for a particular record at the time of the survey. This does not include VAT. Frequently these listed prices are higher than the actual invoice price for the specific record as that record may have been purchased months or years earlier when prices were lower. In addition these invoice costs do not reflect any special or negotiated discount or service, such as return privileges, which may be granted by the manufacturer to a specific retailer. As these costs were calculated from suggested retail and standard markup information supplied by retailers small errors in rounding etc. may have occurred. Where these inaccuracies exist they are quite small. As most sales are direct from manufacturer to retailer this is also the manufacturers selling price.

The displayed price (disp) is a record of the listed selling price in effect in each retail outlet at that time of the survey. Discounts from this displayed price were frequently available to purchasers (for example, multiple album purchasers were frequently offered a quantity discount) either automatically or upon request. The markup from cost to recommended retail is standard for the industry at 50% on cost plus VAT. Generally retailers displayed prices at the level suggested by the manufacturers, although often some records in stock were offered at a discount from the retailers usual selling price. In most cases when retail prices were reduced below the retailer's usual selling price it was to clear items that had been in stock an unusually long time. Some retailers do attempt to attract customers on the basis of a cut-price appeal. Examples of advertising using this approach and taken from Gramophone (February 1979) make up Appendix II.

(iv) TIME: The time listed is as supplied by the manufacturer. Generally it is for the record or record set rather than the work. The distinction is important when more than one work is included on the record or record set.

(v) MARKET SHARE: The market share figures presented are as supplied by retail store personnel. In some cases the cumulative shares total 100%. In almost all cases these are estimates, to the nearest 5%, given by store personnel based on that individual's perception of market share rather than actual stock movement. Most retailers did not keep share of market or turnover data in readily accessible form.

A summary of this information clearly shows the dominance of the three largest manufacturers in the share of the surveyed works. A statistical analysis of this dominance would require comparative volume data which was not available as a result of this study. The use of range and median does, however, provide a useful guide on market dominance.

(vi) CATALOGUE LIST: The "Catalogue of records available in outlets surveyed" includes all records listed in the Gramophone Classical Catalogue September 1978 and any other records found to be available in the retail stores surveyed. If, as frequently happens, a particular interpretation has been re-released under a new number and was available under more than one number it will be listed more than once.

In 1970 the Commission initiated a research programme on the evolution of concentration and competition in several sectors and markets of manufacturing industries in the different Member States (textiles, paper, pharmaceutical and photographic products, cycles and motorcycles, agricultural machinery, office machinery, textile machinery, civil engineering equipment, hoisting and handling equipment, electronic and audio equipment, radio and television receivers, domestic electrical appliances, food and drink manufacturing industries).

The aims, criteria and principal results of this research are set out in the following documents:

- 1) "Methodology of concentration analysis applied to the study of industries and markets", by Dr. Remo LINDA, (ref. 8756), (English version), September 1976.
- 2) "A study of the concentration price and mark ups in the distribution of food products: Volume 1: General Approach and Methodology for the Analysis of Price Structures" by Dr. Remo LINDA, December 1978 — Evolution of Concentration and Competition Series 1978, No. A/24.

This particular volume constitutes a part of the second series of studies, the main aim of which is to present the results of the research on the evolution of prices and margins for the classical records for the United Kingdom.

Similar volumes concerning the structures of the distributive systems and the evolution of prices and mark ups have been established also for the other Member States.
