Industry and Society Nos 1-45

Each issue of Industry and Society normally contains short items of Community news, together with rather longer annexes which either report the current position on a particular topic or provide a summary of a document published by the Community. From time to time a whole issue is devoted to a single topic. It is then published as a special issue.

The index which follows covers Nos 1-45/1974 and lists the more important items of information, the annexes (reference number underlined) and special issues (reference number underlined twice). A key word identifying a subject is followed by a number, which refers the reader to issues in which items on that subject were published.

To make the presentation clearer, the year ('74) has been left out in listing issue numbers.

This bulletin is published by the Commission of the European Communities

Directorate General of Information
