MAJOR COMMUNITY NUCLEAR CONSORTIUM TO PARTICIPATE IN EURATOM'S ORGEL DESIGN STUDY

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 8, 1967 -- A consortium of three concerns operating in the Euratom countries has informed the Euratom Commission that it will participate in the draft design for a 250 mWh ORGEL-type power reactor, the Euratom Commission announced today in Brussels.

In the event of a decision to build a prototype, the three companies are ready to construct this plant in accordance with the terms of their tender.

The consortium consists of the French GAAA (Groupement Atomique Alsacienne Atlantique), the German Interatom and the Italian Montecatini firms.
