Declaration by the Presidency on behalf of the European Union on the forthcoming elections in Ghana

The European Union welcomes the forthcoming presidential and parliamentary elections which are due to take place in Ghana on 7 December as an important further step forward in Ghana's democratic development.

In keeping with its ongoing assistance to the electoral process in Ghana, the Union will provide a number of observers to monitor the December elections. It looks forward to the conduct of these elections in a free and fair manner, the results of which should thus be respected by all parties involved.
