Eurostat hat die Aufgabe, den Informationsbedarf der Kommission und aller am Aufbau des Binnenmarktes Beteiligten mit Hilfe des europäischen statistischen Systems zu decken.

Um der Öffentlichkeit die große Menge an verfügbaren Daten zugänglich zu machen und Benutzern die Orientierung zu erleichtern, werden zwei Arten von Publikationen angeboten: Statistische Dokumente und Veröffentlichungen.

Statistische Dokumente sind für den Fachmann konzipiert und enthalten das ausführliche Datenmaterial: Bezugsdaten, bei denen die Konzepte allgemein bekannt, standardisiert und wissenschaftlich fundiert sind. Diese Daten werden in einer sehr tiefen Gliederung dargeboten. Die Statistischen Dokumente wenden sich an Fachleute, die in der Lage sind, selbständig die benötigten Daten aus der Fülle des dargebotenen Materials auszuwählen. Diese Daten sind in gedruckter Form und/oder auf Diskette, Magnetband, CD-ROM verfügbar. Statistische Dokumente unterscheiden sich auch optisch von anderen Veröffentlichungen durch den mit einer stilisierten Graphik versehenen weißen Einband.

Veröffentlichungen wenden sich an eine ganz bestimmte Zielgruppe, wie zum Beispiel an den Bildungsbereich oder an Entscheidungsträger in Politik und Verwaltung. Sie enthalten ausgewählte und auf die Bedürfnisse einer Zielgruppe abgestellte und kommentierte Informationen. Eurostat übernimmt hier also eine Art Beraterrolle.

Für einen breiteren Benutzerkreis gibt Eurostat Jahrbücher und periodische Veröffentlichungen heraus. Diese enthalten statistische Ergebnisse für eine erste Analyse sowie Hinweise auf weiteres Datenmaterial für vertiefende Untersuchungen. Diese Veröffentlichungen werden in gedruckter Form und in Datenbanken angeboten, die in Menütechnik zugänglich sind.

Um Benutzern die Datensuche zu erleichtern, hat Eurostat Themenkreise, d. h. eine Untergliederung nach Sachgebieten, eingeführt. Daneben sind sowohl die Statistischen Dokumente als auch die Veröffentlichungen in bestimmte Reihen, wie zum Beispiel „Jahrbücher“, „Konjunktur“, „Methoden“, untergliedert, um den Zugriff auf die statistischen Informationen zu erleichtern.

It is Eurostat's responsibility to use the European statistical system to meet the requirements of the Commission and all parties involved in the development of the single market.

To ensure that the vast quantity of accessible data is made widely available, and to help each user make proper use of this information, Eurostat has set up two main categories of document: statistical documents and publications.

The statistical document is aimed at specialists and provides the most complete sets of data: reference data where the methodology is well-established, standardized, uniform and scientific. These data are presented in great detail. The statistical document is intended for experts who are capable of using their own means to seek out what they require. The information is provided on paper and/or on diskette, magnetic tape, CD-ROM. The white cover sheet bears a stylized motif which distinguishes the statistical document from other publications.

The publications proper tend to be compiled for a well-defined and targeted public, such as educational circles or political and administrative decision-makers. The information in these documents is selected, sorted and annotated to suit the target public. In this instance, therefore, Eurostat works in an advisory capacity.

Where the readership is wider and less well-defined, Eurostat provides the information required for an initial analysis, such as yearbooks and periodicals which contain data permitting more in-depth studies. These publications are available on paper or in videotext databases.

To help the user focus his research, Eurostat has created 'themes', i.e. subject classifications. The statistical documents and publications are listed by series: e.g. yearbooks, short-term trends or methodology in order to facilitate access to the statistical data.

Directeur-Général

Pour établir, évaluer ou apprécier les différentes politiques communautaires, la Commission européenne a besoin d'informations.

Eurostat a pour mission, à travers le système statistique européen, de répondre aux besoins de la Commission et de l'ensemble des personnes impliquées dans le développement du marché unique.

Pour mettre à la disposition de tous l'importante quantité de données accessibles et faire en sorte que chacun puisse s'orienter correctement dans cet ensemble, deux grandes catégories de documents ont été créées: les documents statistiques et les publications.

Le document statistique s'adresse aux spécialistes. Il fournit les données les plus complètes: données de référence où la méthodologie est bien connue, standardisée, normalisée et scientifique. Ces données sont présentées à un niveau très détaillé. Le document statistique est destiné aux experts capables de rechercher, par leurs propres moyens, les données requises. Les informations sont alors disponibles sur papier et/ou sur disquette, bande magnétique, CD-ROM. La couverture blanche ornée d'un graphisme stylisé démarque le document statistique des autres publications.

Les publications proprement dites peuvent, elles, être réalisées pour un public bien déterminé, ciblé, par exemple l'enseignement ou les décideurs politiques ou administratifs. Des informations sélectionnées, triées et commentées en fonction de ce public lui sont apportées. Eurostat joue, dès lors, le rôle de conseiller.

Dans le cas d'un public plus large, moins défini, Eurostat procure des éléments nécessaires à une première analyse, les annuaires et les périodiques, dans lesquels figurent les renseignements adéquats pour approfondir l'étude. Ces publications sont présentées sur papier ou dans des banques de données de type videotex.

Pour aider l'utilisateur à s'orienter dans ses recherches, Eurostat a créé les thèmes, c'est-à-dire une classification par sujet. Les documents statistiques et les publications sont répertoriés par série — par exemple, annuaire, conjoncture, méthodologie — afin de faciliter l'accès aux informations statistiques.

FOREWORD

This publication represents an update of Volumes I and III of the Digest of Statistics on Social Protection in Europe, dedicated to the Old age and Survivors functions respectively.

The Digest was published by Eurostat between 1990 and 1994. It contains eight volumes, each dealing with one "function" of social protection. By collecting detailed data by type of benefit (both on expenditure amounts and number of beneficiaries), the Digest aimed to supplement and enrich the aggregated data on social protection expenditure and receipts published regularly by Eurostat within the frame of the ESSPROS methodology.

This volume is organized as follows:

Part I provides some background information on the ESSPROS methodology and contains definitions of the functions and of the types of benefits distinguished within the functions.

Part II and Part III present country tables for the Old age and Survivors functions respectively. The time series cover the period 1980 to 1993 and concern both benefit expenditure in national currency (tables 1) and the number of benefit recipients (tables 2).

Part IV presents comparative tables, providing an overview of trends and structure of expenditure in each Member State and in the European Union as a whole.

The fact sheets describing the main characteristics of national benefits, contained in the first edition of the Digest, have not been updated here. Detailed information on the social protection systems and benefits in the Member States of the EU can be found in the MISSOC publication "Social Protection in the Member States of the Community", edited by DG V. It must be noted, however, that the scope of observation of the Digest is larger than that covered by the MISSOC publication, in that the Digest collects data for special schemes and, as far as possible, for private schemes.

This publication presents data for the 12 Member States of the European Union in 1993, that is excluding the new Member States Austria, Finland and Sweden.

EUROSTAT wishes to thank the correspondents of the Member States for their precious cooperation.

PART I INTRODUCTION

1.1. The general classifications

The classifications of data in the Digest are based on the 1981 ESSPROS methodology, with the addition of some dimensions. These will be incorporated in the revised version of the ESSPROS methodology, which is currently being prepared. The definitions contained in this introduction are still those used in the first edition of the Digest, but they will be modified with the new version of the Methodology⁽¹⁾.

i) The classification by groups of schemes

Data are classified in the following three groups of schemes:

- Basic schemes
- Supplementary schemes
- Means-tested schemes

The 1981 ESSPROS methodology defines basic schemes (paragraph 317) as schemes which, pursuant to the provisions of laws or regulations, provide for primary protection against one or more risks.

The supplementary schemes, known as complementary or supplementary in the ESSPROS methodology (paragraph 326), are schemes which presuppose that, in the case in question, primary benefits are being granted under a basic scheme.

Supplementary schemes have been broken down into compulsory and voluntary schemes. This distinction was not made in the 1981 ESSPROS methodology.

Supplementary protection is regarded as compulsory when:

- established by law or regulation
- established by convention or collective agreement (employers/unions) or within a profession, and made obligatory by the public authorities. The fact that the scheme is subject to legislation (which determines conditions etc...) or that the public authorities recognise the scheme does not mean that the scheme as such is compulsory.

Supplementary protection is regarded as voluntary when:

- established by an agreement at sectoral or at company level, or by voluntary decision of the employer, as long as the scheme is not made obligatory by the public authorities.

- established by a joint decision of the persons concerned themselves as long as the scheme is not made obligatory by the public authorities.

In the case of the old age function, the following benefits fall within compulsory supplementary schemes: pensions from the ATP scheme in Denmark, the ARRCO and AGIRC schemes in France, the BPF schemes (for industry employees) in the Netherlands, the TEAM scheme in Greece. Benefits paid by mutual benefit funds, pension funds, etc... are classified as voluntary.

Voluntary supplementary schemes have in turn been broken down according to the terms of financing. This breakdown can at first sight appear to throw the classification structure off balance. It has been introduced to help collect data relating to this rapidly expanding side of social protection. It will be seen that complete data in this area are available only in a few Union countries: the great variety of systems and the multitude of institutions make the collection and processing of data in this field difficult.

Four terms of financing are distinguished:

- self administered pension funds, i.e. funds managed either by the plan sponsor or by an institution or trust established for this purpose;
- group insurance contracts, whereby the plan sponsor's commitment to provide supplementary coverage is guaranteed by a policy taken out with an insurance company;
- book reserves (a method of funding well established in Germany and in Luxembourg) entered by the employer into the liability side of the company's balance sheet to guarantee future fulfilment of the pension promise made to the company's employees;
- other supplementary pension arrangements, such as those financed in the framework of Mutual Societies.

It should be noted that when the same basic scheme grants benefits including a basic amount and a supplement proportional to earnings (e.g. compulsory old age pension schemes in the United Kingdom, with the SERPS component) or a basic amount and a supplement depending on personal circumstances (e.g. old age pensions in Denmark), all these benefits are classified in the first "pillar".

Finally, the means-tested schemes are known as "schemes relating to other forms of social protection" in the ESSPROS (paragraph 329). Under this heading are classified benefits which aim to ensure a minimum income to old people or survivors without sufficient means (e.g. the "Minimum vieillesse" in France, or the "Revenu garanti aux personnes âgées" in Belgium). Means-tested benefits paid according to rules which apply to the whole population as a last resort (e.g. the "RMI" benefit in France or the "Sozialhilfe" in Germany) are not classified under the Old age or Survivors functions, but under the so-called General neediness function (see Volume 8 of the Digest).

ii) The classification by type of benefits

The types of benefits considered in the Digest are specific to each function; in this way they differ from the types of benefits in the ESSPROS (paragraph 605) which are identical for all the functions, and therefore more general. This change reflects the attempt to obtain uniform classifications for all countries at the level of homogeneity best suited to an analysis by function. The various types of benefits and their definitions are listed in points 1.3 and 1.4 of this introduction.

iii) The revised ESSPROS methodology

The main reason for the revision of the Methodology was to increase flexibility within the system, in order to respond to the increased and shifting data requirements of social policy research.

It can be said that the Digest has laid the basis for the revision of the ESSPROS methodology. The new methodology in fact classifies social benefits in much finer detail than the 1981 methodology, heavily drawing from the classification by type of benefits used in the volumes of the Digest. This will allow a greater understanding of the social protection systems in the Member States and will permit the users of the statistics to form groupings of benefits according to their analysis needs.

The new methodology increases flexibility also by introducing a characterisation of schemes according to various criteria, concerning for example legal enforcement (i.e. compulsory and non compulsory schemes), establishment of entitlements (i.e. contributory and non contributory schemes), etc. This multi-dimensional categorisation will allow users to re-arrange the elementary data (collected by scheme of social protection) to serve their particular type of research.

The increased flexibility is exemplified in the move of the ESSPROS towards an open-ended statistical system, made up of a Core and a still undefined number of modules. The Core system corresponds to the standard information on social protection receipts and expenditure published annually by Eurostat.

The modules will contain supplementary statistical information on particular aspects of social protection, and need not strictly apply the definitions and conventions adopted for the Core. Each module will have its own collection methods and possibly its own sources and estimation procedures. The subjects covered by the modules will depend on the needs expressed by the Commission and the Member States. Themes that might be analysed in future modules could include active measures to promote employment, the influence of the tax system on social protection expenditure, the number of beneficiaries or protected people, etc.

1.2. The Old age and Survivors functions: general remarks

The Old age and Survivors functions are closely interrelated. They are part of a coherent set of benefits, the objective of which is to sustain or maintain individual income in the event of old age/retirement or death of a breadwinner. In the Member states, old age and survivors benefits are normally institutionally integrated and belong to the "national pension system", even if the benefits provided are not exclusively periodical payments. Indeed, in both cases, the pension is the most important type of benefit: in 1993, the share of pensions in the European total of benefit expenditure was 89.6% for the old age function and 95.9% for the survivors function.

From a statistical point of view, the two functions share common classification and analytical criteria: in particular, the structure by pillars - two pillars (the basic and the supplementary) plus the means-tested schemes - used for the statistical analysis of the old age function is also applicable to the survivors function.

For some countries, the two functions are so closely linked that it was not possible to separate data pertaining to the two functions, and survivors figures were thus included in the old age function. This is the case for Greece and Denmark. Denmark represents a special case: after the pension reform of 1 January 1984, there is no specific right to a survivor's pension in the basic schemes. Widow(er)s may now benefit from an early retirement pension, which is payable to persons aged 18-66 for financial, social and/or health reasons. The early retirement scheme is classified under the old age function and all the data are included there. Furthermore, a supplementary flat-rate widow(er)s' benefit accrues under the ATP supplementary pension arrangement, but all the figures relating to this benefit are included in the old age function.

1.3. The Old age function: definition of types of benefits⁽²⁾

Old age is defined as the state of having reached a certain minimum age, beyond which, as a rule, one's main occupation may cease.

This function covers the following:

- pensions and allowances paid in case of survival beyond a prescribed age;
- compensatory or additional pensions and allowances;
- payments described as early-retirement or redundancy benefits paid temporarily until the age of retirement is reached;
- benefits to compensate for loss of income paid to invalids who have passed the normal retirement age;
- the provision of accommodation (institutional, homes, old people's homes, etc.) and various kind of assistance for old people;
- other forms of social assistance for old people: various kind of reduction, other benefits in kind, etc.

This function excludes:

- medical care given to old people;
- all supplements to pensions, allowances, etc. granted on account of family responsibilities.

Old age pension: periodic payment intended to maintain or support the income of beneficiaries on the grounds of old age. It is paid at the standard pensionable age. The benefit may be a means-tested assistance pension, a basic pension or a supplementary pension.

Early retirement pension: periodic payment to elderly workers who retire before standard retirement age as defined in the relevant scheme. An actuarial reduction may be applied.

Redundancy benefit: periodic payment intended to provide a replacement income for elderly workers who stop working in their paid occupation following a reduction in the labour force as an economic measure, such as a restructuring of the enterprise or industrial sector concerned. These payments normally cease when the beneficiary becomes entitled to an old age pension.

Lump-sum benefit: payment of a single sum instead of a periodic payment (old age, early retirement or redundancy benefit). In general, beneficiaries do not qualify on all points for a periodic payment.

Other cash benefit: cash payments to old people not falling under the above headings (severance pay, holiday pay, special bonuses, ...).

Accommodation: provision of accommodation (and possibly board) to old people, either in a specialised institution or in families, on either a permanent or intermittent basis.

Home help: provision to old people of goods (food, energy, clothes etc.;) or services in their homes.

Miscellaneous concessions: benefits in the form of a difference between the standard customer rate and the actual rate for old people, covering public transport, postal services, telephone, television, etc.

Other benefit in kind: benefit in kind not falling under one of the headings above.

1.4 Survivors function: definition of types of benefits⁽³⁾

A survivors' benefit is a benefit granted on the basis of a derived right, i.e., the right originally acquired by another person whose death is a condition for granting the benefit. However, certain insurance organisations treat this right as a direct one, i.e., there is no connection between the benefit received and that which the deceased member of the family would have been able to claim. Survivors in receipt of a benefit may be the spouse or ex-spouse of the deceased person, his or her children, grandchildren, ascendants or other relatives. In exceptional case (e.g. reimbursement of funeral expenses), the benefit may be paid to a person outside the family.

This function covers:

- pensions, compensation payments and other cash benefits paid out to survivors in their capacity as relatives of the deceased person;
- pensions reverting to next-of-kin;
- death grants, funeral expenses, etc.

The following are excluded:

- medical care given to survivors;
- any increase in pensions, etc., granted on account of family responsibilities.

Survivor's pension: periodic payment to persons whose entitlement derives from their relationship with a deceased protected person (widows, orphans, etc.). It may be an assistance pension, a basic pension or a supplementary pension.

Death grant: single payment to persons whose entitlement derives from their relationship with a deceased protected person.

Other cash benefit: cash payments to survivors not falling under the above headings.

Funeral expenses: payment to cover the funeral or burial expenses of a deceased person protected by the scheme. This allowance is paid to the persons who bear these costs.

Other benefit in kind: benefits in kind not falling under the above headings.

Footnotes:

- (1) At the moment this publication goes to press, the revision process is at its final stage. The draft of the new methodology was discussed at the ESSPROS Working Group meeting of 11 and 12 March 1996. See documents PS 96/3 and PS 96/4.
- (2) It must be stressed that the classification by type of benefits for the Old age function will be modified in the revised Methodology.
- (3) The classification by type of benefits for the Survivors function used here is nearly identical to that in the revised Methodology.

OLD AGE - FOOTNOTES TO TABLES 1 AND 2

BELGIUM

- (a) Early retirement figures are included under old age pension, since early retirement is a specific application of the rules for the old age pension.
- (b) Figures for RTT only. Figures for PTT are not included.
- (c) Up to 1985, data are estimated.
- (d) from 1984 to 1988, data are estimated.
- (e) From 1984 to 1988, yearly averages. "Older unemployed workers supplementary benefit": after 1988, included in "collective agreements"; "Railways permanent staff, holiday allowance": after 1988, included in "Holiday allowance, private employees and public temporary personnel".

DENMARK

- (a) As from the early retirement pension reform of 1 January 1984, the survivors' pension no longer exists. Survivors may receive an early retirement pension instead (see the Survivors function). Widows' pensions can accrue under the supplementary pension schemes, but all the figures relating to the survivors' function are included here.
- (b) Private pension provision may take the form of insurance contracts or pension funds. No breakdown is available.
- (c) Number of households (x1000).
- (d) Figures on beneficiaries for "Other civil servants" are included in the figures for "Established civil servants".

GERMANY

- (a) Early retirement figures are included under "General scheme for employees and the self-employed".
- (b) Some schemes for members of the liberal professions provide lump sum benefits.
- (c) Benefits to cover the cost of social security contributions supplement the pension. They are part of the pension although they are registered separately and have to be paid as an obligatory contribution to the health insurance.
- (d) Figures for pension provision by private employers cannot be broken down by terms of financing.
- (e) For 1980 to 1983: January; since 1984: July.
- (f) July; General Scheme only.

GREECE

- (a) Data for early retirement pension are included under old age pension. The data concerning supplements for children under the IKA scheme should not be included in the old age function, but in the family function.
- (b) Includes figures for old age, invalidity and survivors. Figures by function are not available.
- (c) A large number of special schemes exist in Greece. The figures cover all the schemes; no breakdown is available.

SPAIN

- (a) Separate data for early retirement are not available.

FRANCE

- (a) No separate data available for each single benefit in 1980.
- (b) Including Post and Telecommunication personnel.

IRELAND

- (a) Lump sums are paid by the pension schemes for civil servants and local government employees. No separate data available.
- (b) Estimates: the Central Statistics Office is not the source. Lump sums are paid under the employers' schemes. No separate data available.

ITALY

- (a) Several pension schemes for employees may also pay "redundancy benefits" to employees in industries facing economic difficulties. Besides, in many cases the employee can retire before the normal prescribed age, provided he/she fulfills certain contribution conditions. Separate data are not available. The corresponding amounts are included in Old age pension.
- (b) Includes supplements for dependent children, which should be included in the Family function.

OLD AGE - FOOTNOTES TO TABLES 1 AND 2

(c) All the data are included in "Other special professional schemes".

(d) This benefit only exists in Italy, and its inclusion in the old age function may be questioned. Firstly because the benefit can be paid at any age after termination of employment (and more than once during the working life of the employee, if he/she has worked in more than one private enterprise). In these cases, the benefit can be considered as an anticipated old age benefit. Secondly, such payments can be considered not as social protection benefits, but as enforced saving or deferred wages.

TFR payments represented 11,5% of total expenditure for Italy in 1993. The evaluation of the level of old age benefits for this country should take account of the above considerations.

(e) Occupational old age benefits (i.e. supplementary pension provision) have been established in the banking sector and by large multinational and/or national companies. Data are not available.

(f) "Miscellaneous Social Services" includes subsidies to old people's homes. Separate data are not available.

(g) Data refer to the number of pensions and not to the number of pensioners.

LUXEMBOURG

(a) Data for Early retirement pension are included in Old age pension.

(b) This benefit was replaced in 1987 by the "Complement to minimum income" which is not specifically aimed at the elderly and is provided as last resort. This benefit is classified in the General Neediness function.

THE NETHERLANDS

(a) "Private Industry Pension Funds" (BPF) are classified as compulsory schemes, although some of them are not made compulsory by the public authorities.

(b) The series for "Subsidies to old people's homes" show a break in the year 1985, reflecting a change in the way these homes are financed (introduction of WBO law).

(c) "Non-residential social services" include reductions on public transport fares. No separate data available.

(d) Data are yearly averages.

(e) The number of beneficiaries is not calculated in the same way before and after 1985. Before 1985 a couple was regarded as one unit. Since 1985 each member of a couple has an own right on 50% of the couple's benefit under the AOW scheme.

(f) The number of beneficiaries of AMF and PPV are included in "Private industry pension funds" (BPF) beneficiaries.

PORTUGAL

(a) In 1981 pensioners without a complete contribution record were moved from the "General agricultural scheme" to the means-tested "Social pension" scheme. This explains the sharp fall in the figures.

(b) Data for Early retirement are included in Redundancy benefit.

(c) Supplementary pension plans through insurance contracts or pension funds exist in Portugal. Book reserves also exist, but they do not enjoy tax concessions. Data are not available.

(d) The figures concern the number of cases, not the number of beneficiaries.

UNITED KINGDOM

(a) "All residents, flat rate retirement pension" includes figures for "graduated retirement benefit", "earnings' related complement (SERPS)", "deferred retirement component" and "guaranteed Minimum pension (GMP) to contracted-out employees".

(b) "Old age pension" includes figures for "Lump sum benefit".

(c) Data on expenditure are based on estimates. In the first edition of the Manual, the contracted-out occupational plans appeared among the basic schemes, since they replace the earnings-related component (SERPS), which is classified as basic scheme. However, contracted-out occupational plans have all the characteristics of voluntary supplementary schemes, and they have been classified accordingly here. Furthermore, the provided figures include the amount of occupational pensions which are not contracted-out.

(d) Contracted-out plans can take the form of self-administered funds in the enterprise or of insured plans; pensions or lump sums may be paid. No separate data available.

(e) The figure for 1993 is estimated.

(f) Great Britain only, not the entire United Kingdom.

SURVIVORS - FOOTNOTES TO TABLES 1 AND 2

BELGIUM

- [a] In 1984, legislation introduced equal rights for widows and widowers, but prior to this date the widower was entitled to a pension only if disabled and permanently incapable of self-support. That is to say, widower's pension was means-tested: it is not possible, however, to separate data which should be classified under the means-tested schemes.
- [b] Before 1984, only the figures relating to the occupational accidents' scheme are included; data relating to the occupational diseases' scheme are not available.
- [c] Estimation
- [d] Number of new cases during the year

DENMARK

- [a] Since 1 January 1984, no widow's pension has been provided under the State pension system, and a means-tested early-retirement pension may be payable to widow(er)s (see old age function).
- [b] Data for this benefit are included in the old age function. A breakdown of the data was not possible.

GERMANY

- [a] On 1/01/1986, legislation introduced equal rights for widows and widowers, but prior to this date the widower was entitled to a pension only if financially dependent on the deceased spouse. That is to say, widower's pension was means-tested: it is not possible, however, to separate data which should be classified under the means-tested schemes.
- [b] Figures for "lump sum on remarriage" are included under "survivor's pension".
- [c] Payments to cover social security contributions supplement the pension. They are part of the pension although they are registered separately and have to be paid as an obligatory contribution to the health insurance.
- [d] Private pension provision by the enterprise may take the form of book reserves, insurance contracts, pension funds or support funds. A data breakdown is not available.

GREECE

- [a] A pension is paid to the widower only if he was financially dependent on the deceased wife. Thus, widower's pension is means-tested: it is not possible, however, to separate data which should be classified under the means-tested schemes.
- No special insurance exists against employment injuries and occupational diseases. Death occurred as a result of these two risks is covered by survivors' benefit schemes with specific regulations.
- [b] 1992 and 1993 figures are estimated.
- [c] Data are included in the old age function.
- [d] Information and data on complementary voluntary schemes is not available. Private institutions involved in complementary pension provision include self-administered funds, Mutual Benefit Societies, Special Pension Accounts, Group Insurance policies and arrangements made for the civil service.

SPAIN

- [a] In 1983, legislation introduced equal rights for widows and widowers, but prior to this date the widower was entitled to a pension only if disabled and permanently incapable of self-support. That is to say, widower's pension was means-tested: it is not possible, however, to separate data which should be classified under the means-tested schemes.
- [b] Figures for "lump sum on remarriage" are included in "widower's pension".
- [c] Data for widow(er)'s and orphan's pensions for civil servants and military personnel have not been broken down between the compulsory and the voluntary supplementary schemes.

FRANCE

- [b] The number of beneficiaries of the pension from the CNAVTS scheme includes the number of beneficiaries of the pension from the CNAMTS scheme.

SURVIVORS - FOOTNOTES TO TABLES 1 AND 2

- [b] The amount of funeral grants from the occupational injuries insurance is included under the corresponding pension; no breakdown is available. However, negligible numbers of grants are paid each year.
- [c] Estimates; Central Statistics Office is not the source. Figures for "Self-administered funds" include "insured plans". No breakdown available.
- [d] Figures on the number of beneficiaries include child dependants of widows and prescribed relatives providing full-time care for incapacitated widows.
- [e] Data on numbers of Local Government survivor pensioners include Health Boards and VEC - as supplied by Department of Environment

- [l] Figures include orphans and other dependants and relate to Great Britain only.

This publication represents an update of Volumes I and III of the Digest of statistics on social protection in Europe, dedicated to the old age and survivors' functions respectively.

The Digest was published by Eurostat between 1990 and 1994. It contains eight volumes, each dealing with one 'function' of social protection. By collecting detailed data by type of benefit (both on expenditure amounts and number of beneficiaries), the Digest aimed to supplement and enrich the aggregated data on social protection expenditure published regularly by Eurostat within the frame of the Esspros methodology.

The figures in this volume cover the period from 1980 to 1993; they relate to expenditure on old age and survivors' benefits and, as far as possible, to the corresponding number of beneficiaries.
