

BIOGRAPHICAL DATA: CHARLES W. BRAY III
DEPUTY DIRECTOR
INTERNATIONAL COMMUNICATION AGENCY

Nominated as Deputy Director of the U.S. Information Agency by President Carter April 27, 1977; confirmed by the U.S. Senate on May 25, 1977.

(Mr. Bray is the sixth Deputy Director in USIA's 23-year history, and the first career Foreign Service Officer to hold that position.)

He was born on October 24, 1933 in New York City.

Education: 1955: B.A., magna cum laude, Princeton University
1956: Fulbright Fellow, University of Bordeaux
1966: Graduate studies in economics and systems analysis, University of Maryland

Military Service: 1956-1958: U.S. Army, active duty in Germany

Diplomacy: 1958: Joined State Department as a Foreign Service Officer
1959: Information Specialist
1961: Consular Officer, Cebu, the Philippines
1963: Political and AID Officer, Bangui, Central African Republic
1965: Department of State Personnel Staffing Specialist
1967: Special Assistant to Deputy Under Secretary for Political Affairs
1968: Deputy Director, Office of North African Affairs
1970: Director of Public Affairs, Bureau of African Affairs
1971: Director, Office of Press Relations (Spokesman for the Department of State), Special Assistant to the Secretary of State
1973: Deputy Assistant Secretary and Special Assistant to the Secretary of State for Press Relations
1974: Deputy Assistant Secretary for Public Affairs
1976: Deputy Assistant Secretary for Inter-American Affairs

Awards: 1965: AID Meritorious Honor Award

Mr. Bray is married with three children.

September 1978