

Luxembourg, 3 April 1957

PRESS RELEASE

Three officials of Britain's Atomic Energy Authority (AEA) who have been conferring here since Monday afternoon with experts of Euratom, will leave Luxembourg tonight. The three experts are:

Dr. J.M. HILL, Deputy Director of Technical Policy,
Industrial Group, AEA;

Dr. Gordon BROWN, Deputy Chief Engineer for Civil Reactors, AEA;

Mr. H.R. JOHNSON, Assistant Director of Technical Policy, Industrial Group, AEA.

During their stay in Luxembourg the British experts met Herr Franz Etzel and Dr. Francesco Giordani - two of Euratom's "Three Wise Men" - and the four United States atomic experts who are also in Luxembourg for consultation with the "Wise Men".
