Contrary to what had been intended, the fourth issue of "EUROSTAT NEWS" is being dispatched on the basis of the complete list of recipients of EUROSTAT publications. Please accept our apologies for any inconvenience this may cause, such as receipt of too many or too few copies. The high number of requests received for subscriptions to this publication left us with insufficient time to complete the ad hoc distribution list.

We wanted you to be aware of the principal publications now available, however, and so to avoid too long gap between issues of "EUROSTAT NEWS" we are issuing this abbreviated edition.

From September onwards we hope to return to regular monthly publication, using a more suitable distribution list to enable us to reduce dispatching times.

The EUROSTAT publications are delivered

Multilingual edition published in June 1976 US$ 3,60
Fb 150

This volume presents the most recent available data on the geographical breakdown of the balance of payments of each European Community country and of the United States and Japan.

The balances of the European Community countries are also given in the form of totals relating to the six original Member States (EUR 6) and, where possible, to the nine current Member States (EUR 9) as a whole.

The data, expressed in millions of statistical units of account of the European Community and presented according to the EUROSTAT balance of payments and geographical breakdown schemes, cover the period 1970 to 1974. They are preceded by two notes concerning, respectively, the drawing up of a consolidated balance of payments of the European Community countries and the balance of payments of the community institutions.

Approximately 75 pages Format A 4

Multilingual edition to be published in July 1976

This volume presents the most recent available data on the global balance of payments (annual flows) and on the external position of the monetary authorities (at period-end exchange rates) for each European Community country, the United States and Japan.

The balances of the European Community countries are also given in the form of totals relating to the nine Member States (EUR 9) as a whole.

The data, expressed in millions of units of account of the European Community and presented according to the EUROSTAT balance of payments scheme, cover the period 1961 to 1975. Most of the tables also contain the figures for 1958 for comparison purposes.

Multilingual edition published in June 1976

The present publication gives a survey of the different financial participations of the Community in favour of the investments in the Community regions.

The published figures represent the amounts of financial participations and the corresponding amounts of investments; they are given annually for 1972, 1973 and 1974 and cumulatively, for the period ending 31 December 1974.

Regional accounts : main economic aggregates - 1970

Price : £ 1,70
DK 23,50
US$ 3,60
Fb 150

Approximately 250 pages Format A 4

Multilingual edition to be published in July 1976

First publication of the main aggregates of regional accounts drawn up according to the European system of integrated economic accounts at the level of the Community's basic administrative units (110).

The introduction defines regional accounts according to the European system of integrated economic accounts (ESA), and introduces in particular the branch nomenclature (NUTS), applied at regional level.

The results are presented in two types of table :

- Summary tables (1 to 4) :
 - Dispersion index of value added per inhabitant, illustrated by a map showing the wide differences between the more favoured and less favoured regions of the EC.
 - Principal regional global economic aggregates (value added, disposable income, final consumption, total employment and paid employment), related to the population or to employment. These results are statistically analysed and commented upon.
 - Value added by groups of branches and localization quotient for value added, showing regional structural disparities.
- Detailed tables (5 to 11) :
 - Gross value added at market prices, value added at factor cost, employees' earnings, gross operating surplus, total employment, paid employment.
This data is based on NACE-CLIO RR 17.
 - Gross fixed capital formation, broken down by 4 groups of investing branches and 4 producer branches (NACE RI 5).

 Fb 500

298 pages Format A 4

Multilingual edition published in May 1976

The yearbook on energy statistics groups in a single volume an extensive body of statistical information relating to the energy economy of the Community and of the Member States over recent years. The first chapter covers energy economy indicators and the overall energy balance sheet of the Nine, the Six and each Member State. Each of the balance sheets, drawn up in tonnes of coal equivalent, is broken down by product, and graphs show precisely the development of the main economic variables since 1963.

The succeeding chapters give the balance sheet and numerous historical series expressed in physical units for each energy source. The data presented deal essentially with production, stocks, external trade and internal market flows. The principal data start from 1960. Information on the structure of energy supply plant as at the end of the previous year is also given.

Volume I - Methodology 1970-1975 : approximately 36 pages
French

This publication describes the methodology used by EUROSTAT to draw up the input-output tables produced from 1970 onwards according to Community standards. A general description of the input-output tables is given, noting the principal concepts defined in the European System of Integrated Economic Accounts (ESA).

The different types of tables published by EUROSTAT are illustrated : annual tables, more detailed five-yearly tables, annual summary tables at constant prices.

In addition, the three main components of an input-output table (intermediate consumption, final uses, primary inputs) are described in detail in the various possible evaluations (approximate factor prices, producers' prices, purchasers' prices) and relations of identity between these various components are given. Numerous references are made to ESA definitions.

A final chapter summarizes, using a simple mathematical formulation, the principal relationships expressing the balances between the figures in the various tables. After some additional assumptions have been made, the way in which the information in the tables may be used in economic models is demonstrated. Thus, for example, direct and indirect input or import requirements induced by a given final demand, can be estimated. An example is also given of an application to the study of the effects of variations in price and costs of primary inputs on domestic prices.

Appended to the publication is a definition of the nomenclature used (NACE/CLIO - R 44), based on NACE/CLIO groups, and the relationship between this nomenclature and those used by EUROSTAT for the 1959 and 1965 tables is also explained.

F/E/D editions published in June 1976

This volume contains the third report from the Sub-Committee "Statistics" to the Committee on Scientific and Technical Research, CREST.

In this report, which, for the first time, is based upon the detailed break-down of the new version of the Nomenclature for the analysis and comparison of science programmes and budgets (NABS-75) is to be found, among other items :

- an examination in depth of central government R & D appropriations in 1974-1975 and their evolution since 1970 in the Community countries.
- a comparison of appropriations for R & D having primarily human and social objectives with those for R & D having primarily technological objectives.
- a first attempt at comparison between the public financing of R & D in the USA with that in the countries of the EC.

This survey was carried out simultaneously and using the same methods in the six founder Member States of the Common Market.

The main aim of the survey was to measure variations in real earnings according to personal characteristics (sex, age, qualifications, length of service, etc.) and structural characteristics (employment sector, size and geographical location of the firm or the enterprise) and to show the correlation between employment structures and the scale of earnings.

The results have been published in the form of two separate volumes for each country containing the following :

Volume A : Analysis of general results followed by a résumé of these results in the form of a statistical annex.

Volume B : Detailed statistical tables covering each of the 71 headings of the NACE (General industrial classification of economic activities within the European Communities) used in the breakdown of the results.

Before publication of the results for each country a methodological volume was issued.
