- (2) It is important to recognise the serious immediate and long-term implications for health, psychological and social development, and for the equal opportunities of those concerned, that violence has for individuals, families and communities and the high social and economic costs to society as a whole;
- (2a) Whereas according to the World Health Organisations's definition, health is a state of complete physical, mental and social well-being and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity; whereas, in accordance with point (p) of Article 3 of the Treaty, Community action shall include a contribution to the attainment of a high level of health protection;

- (4) The European Union has taken action in the field of justice and home affairs in particular by the Joint Action of 24 February 1997 concerning action to combat trafficking in human beings and sexual exploitation of children¹³; the criminal law aspects of violence are a matter for the Member States;
- (5) The European Parliament, in its resolutions of 18 January 1996 on trafficking in human beings¹⁴, of 19 September 1996 on minors who are victims of violence¹⁵, of 12 December 1996 on measures to protect minors in the European Union¹⁶ and of 16 September 1997 on the need to establish a European Union-wide campaign for zero tolerance of violence against women¹⁷ and of 16 December 1997 on trafficking in women for the purpose of sexual exploitation¹⁸ has called upon the Commission to draw up and implement action programmes to combat such violence;

- (11) Therefore, in accordance with the principles of subsidiarity and proportionality as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty, the objectives of the proposed measure can be better achieved by the Community; this Decision confines itself to the minimum required in order to achieve those objectives and does not go beyond what is necessary for that purpose;

- (16) In order to increase the value and impact of the programme, a continuous assessment of the actions undertaken should be carried out, with particular regard to their effectiveness and the achievement of the objectives set and with a view, where appropriate, to making the necessary adjustments;
- (17) This programme should be of a four-year duration in order to allow sufficient time for actions to be implemented to achieve the objectives set;
- ~~(18) Whereas for the purposes of the application of this Decision, the Commission should be assisted by an appropriate committee;~~

(18) Whereas implementing measures have to be adopted following the Council Decision 1999/468/EC of 28 June 1999 laying down the procedures for the exercise of implementing powers conferred on the Commission²⁰.

(19) This Decision lays down for the entire duration of the programme a financial framework constituting the prime reference, within the meaning of point 33 of the Interinstitutional Agreement between the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission of 6 May 1999 on budgetary discipline and improvement of the budgetary procedure²¹,
